The wireframe illustrates a three-column content page layout. At the top, there's a header bar with back/forward buttons and a URL field showing "http://www.example3.html". To the right of the URL field are "Utility Navigation" and a search bar with an "ok" button. Below the header is a blue navigation bar containing four global navigation items: GlobalNav1, GlobalNav2, GlobalNav3, and GlobalNav4. A blue banner below the navigation bar displays "Shield EMORY | Department Name". The main content area is divided into three columns. The left column contains a "Local Nav" section with links to "Section 2.2", "Section 2.3", "Section 2.3.1", "Section 2.3.2", and "Section 2.3.3". It also features two "Feature" boxes, each containing the text "Nunc vero fatemur, acut". The middle column is the largest and contains a breadcrumb trail ("Home > Breadcrumb 1 > Breadcrumb 2"), a "Page Title" section, and two large text blocks. The first text block discusses various Latin words and their meanings. The second text block discusses Latin words and their meanings. The right column contains three "Feature" boxes, each with the text "Nunc vero fatemur, acut". At the bottom is a footer section.
